Busteed was an overwhelming favorite for the second race. Tormentor was fanced, but Jockey French kept many from playing him. Of the other two stratagem was most liked. French lost the race by sending Tormentor in the heavy going in the last few strides, and let Busteed get up in the good going on the outside and win by a head. Stratagem was third.

McKeever was the first favorite to go down. He was heavily backed, but had to give way at the end to the second choice, Circular, who won handily.

McKeever had hard work to beat the War Paint colt for the place.
